

LEADERSHIP USA® FEATURED FACULTY

MONTHLY SEMINAR

The Diversity Difference: Leading By What You Do, NOT By What You Say

If you want to thrive and influence others in today's global economy, you must acquire a multicultural, multigenerational mindset. Your success and your team's successes are a reflection of how you embrace and celebrate differences. It is essential to build a comfortable environment for people to be themselves and shine, so you need tools and resources to change your pace as a leader. Leaders can make a difference in how they respond when someone is uncomfortable and how they lead by example. Capitalizing on your biases and beliefs is the catalyst for effective and productive change.

Lori Pace

Lori Pace is the Architect of the Diversity Difference program, which is designed to inspire leaders to develop a Multicultural and Multigenerational Mindset. Her diverse background in Business, Architecture, Urban Planning, Real Estate, and Philanthropy is her winning formula for developing a sustainable difference in the workplace. Her clients are both in the public and private sectors ranging from many different demographics. She is a national Keynote and TEDx Speaker, as well as a speaker on behalf of the American Heart association. She engages audiences to help them feel comfortable in potentially uncomfortable situations around equity and inclusion.

Wednesday, February 24, 2021

Registration: 8:30 AM | Session: 9:00 AM - 12 PM

The Curtis Ballroom

5345 Landmark Pl, Greenwood Village, CO 80111

Competencies:

Diversity/Inclusion
Culture/Engagement
Creativity Innovation

Most Appropriate: Level 2

Next Appropriate: Level 3